Your Performance

Test takers who receive a score at the HIGH level, as you did, typically understand academic texts in English that present a wide range of reading abilities regardless of the difficulty of the texts.

Test takers who score at the HIGH level, typically have a very good command of academic vocabulary and grammatical structure;

can understand and connect information, make appropriate inferences, and synthesize ideas, even when the text is conceptually dense and the language is complex;

can recognize the expository organization of a text and the role that specific information serves within the larger text, even when the text is conceptually dense; and can abstract major ideas from a text, even when the text is conceptually dense and contains complex language.

Your Performance

Test takers who receive a score at the HIGH level, as you did, typically understand conversations and lectures that present a wide range of listening demands. These demands can include difficult vocabulary (technical terms, or colloquial or figurative language), complex grammatical structures, abstract or complex information, or making sense of unexpected or seemingly contradictory information.

When listening to lectures and conversations like these, test takers at the HIGH level typically can

Speaking Skills	Level*	Your Performance
Speaking about Familiar Topics	Limited	Your responses indicate some difficulty speaking in English about everyday experiences and opinions. Listeners sometimes have trouble understanding you because of noticeable problems with pronunciation, grammar, and vocabulary. While you are able to respond partially to the questions, you are not able to fully develop your ideas, possibly due to limited vocabulary and grammar.
Speaking about Campus Situation	Limited	Your responses indicate that you have some difficulty speaking in English about information from conversations, newspaper articles, university publications, and so on. While you are able to talk about some of the key information from these sources, limited grammar and vocabulary may prevent you from fully expressing your ideas. Problems with pronunciation make it difficult for listeners to understand you at times.
Speaking about Academic Course Content	Limited	In your responses, you are able to use English to talk about the basic ideas from academic reading or lecture materials, but, in general, you include few relevant or accurate details. It is sometimes difficult for listeners to understand your responses because of problems with grammar, vocabulary, and pronunciation. Overall, you are able to respond in a general way to the questions, but the amount of information in your responses is limited and the expression of ideas is often vague and unclear.
Writing Skills	Level*	Your Performance
Writing based on Reading and Listening	Fair	You responded to the task, relating the lecture to the reading, but your response indicates weaknesses such as <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>an important idea or ideas may be missing, unclear, or inaccurate;</li> <li>there may be unclarity in how the lecture and the reading passage are related; and/or</li> <li>grammatical mistakes or vague/incorrect uses of words may make the writing difficult to understand.</li> </ul>
Writing based on Knowledge and Experience	Fair	You expressed ideas with reasons, examples, and details, but your response indicated weaknesses such as <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>you may not provide enough specific support and development for your main points;</li> <li>your ideas may be difficult to follow because of how you organize your essay or because of the language you use to connect your ideas; and/or</li> <li>grammatical mistakes or vague/incorrect uses of words may make the writing difficult to understand.</li> </ul>

* Skill levels for speaking and writing individual skills are estimates of performance at the item level. The total writing and speaking scaled scores and ranges are more accurate. Therefore it is not appropriate to combine the individual skill levels. Doing so may lead to apparent inconsistencies between the diagnostic feedback and reported writing and speaking scores.
